Alexandria Army Airfield Gunnery Range

Facility and Location

Alexandria Army Airfield Gunnery Range was acquired for use by Army Air Corps bomber crews. Improvements placed on the property include a control tower, a generator and oil storage house, ammunition storage facilities, and various targets. In 1946, this property and all improvements were declared surplus. All improvements were removed with the exception of several steel pipe gun mounts.

Media Sampled and Findings

Surface Water — In 2007, two of two samples detected perchlorate at 0.02 and 0.03 ppb.

Appropriate Actions

Not Applicable. All samples were below the EPA and DoD Preliminary Remediation Goal of 15 ppb.
